Who are we and what do we do?

- Faculty is commissioned by the NHS to train student nurses as part of future workforce planning
- The Nursing and Midwifery Council governs the regulations concerning how nurses and midwives are trained in the UK
- We have recently moved from our Chalfont campus to a new site in Uxbridge; a completely refurbished property.

- Bucks New Uni has been training student nurses for many years; we currently train 423 students per year in Adult, Mental Health and Child nursing
- In terms of the quality of nurse education NHS London rated us first of the 9 London universities commissioned for nurse training in 2008/9.
- The current programme is either at diploma or degree level and consists of 3 years theory and practice.

What does the course consist of?

Theoretical knowledge
e.g. physiology,
professional practice,
pharmacology, child development, disease processes, legal frameworks.

Practical skills

Taking temperatures, hygiene care, giving medications, communicating with people

Learning through supervised practice

Students attend supervised practice in each year of the programme. They are tested on a number of key skills and attributes.

Can you help us?

Next curriculum is being written and we want your input!

- What are the priorities from your perspective?
- How should we be assessing the students?
- What do you feel are the key skills that students need to have?
- Could you attend a series of short meetings and discussions at the University in Uxbridge to give us your opinions?

Thank you
