Centre for Spiritual and Pastoral Care

Admission to hospital, and the experience of serious illness, often challenges people to reassess their attitudes to life, their values, relationships, and beliefs.

The Centre for Spiritual and Pastoral Care (Chaplaincy) provides spiritual and pastoral support for patients, visitors and staff of all faiths and beliefs, through the team of Chaplains and trained volunteers.

The types of support provided include:

A Listening Ear, when people have anxieties or concerns and wish to speak to someone...

- about their condition and/or clinical interventions and recovery
- about their families and friends, or personal issues
- about approaching the end of life.

Faith-based support through...

- whenever possible, access to a person who shares their faith
- prayers, sacraments and rituals within specific faith traditions.

Non-Religious support...

- spiritual and pastoral support for people who hold non-religious beliefs
- non-religious ceremonies.

Guidance for patients and visitors:

If you would like someone with whom to share your concerns, or want any kind of spiritual or pastoral support, you can access the Chaplaincy Team in any of the following ways:

- Ask the ward staff, or any clinician, to make a referral on your behalf
- Telephone the Chaplaincy Office
- Come along to the Chaplaincy Office, on the Lower Ground floor.

Guidance for staff

Your role in supporting access to Chaplaincy services is vital:

- Please make all patients aware of the support available for them
- Please consider if any patient might wish to have pastoral or spiritual support.
- Please assist patients who would like support to make a self-referral, or, subject to their consent, make a referral on their behalf (see contact details below).
